FYE Instructors support new students in a variety of ways. From facilitating meaningful class discussions to connecting their students to resources across campus, FYE Instructors help new students find their way and establish a sense of belonging here at UNC Greensboro.

"I really enjoy the opportunity to teach FYE. The connection I make with students is invaluable. It also brings me joy when I see them succeed and graduate."

- Fall 2020 FYE Instructor

99% of students believed their FYE instructor demonstrated excellence in teaching.

100% of peer academic leaders felt connected to and supported by their FYE instructors.

86% of FYE instructors would recommend the FYE instructor role to their colleagues.

FYE INSTRUCTOR EXPERIENCE

- 90% believed they personally benefited from their role as an FYE Instructor.
- 79% would like to be considered for the position next fall, with the other 21% stating they were graduating, but would be interested if they were still in the area.

STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

- 99% of students felt their FYE Instructor genuinely cared about them.
- 90% of FYE Instructors met with their Peer Academic Leader at least once a week.
- 87% of FYE Instructors felt they built strong relationships with their students.

COVID-19 DISCLAIMER: Fall 2020 course instruction was impacted by the global pandemic.

Based on information collected from the course evaluation and end of year assessments.

Interested in learning more about being an FYE Instructor? Connect with New Student Transitions & First Year Experience at e_wiersm@uncg.edu